

DAIRY BLOCK SHIRAZ

Adelaide Hills | 2018

Selectively picked from our low-yielding Shiraz vines, which grow on the north facing slope of our Sophie's Hill vineyard. Warm and dry conditions in January and February with a cool March allowed slow ripening and produced tannins that are soft, delicious, balanced, lingering and fresh. Vivid colours of mid ruby with a deep brick red hue. The wine was fermented on skins for 22 days and aged for 18 months in 33% new French oak barrels. Expect fresh red fruits, spice, pepper and hints of cedary oak. A detailed and interesting wine from a notable vintage.

Pale purple colour with red edges, medium-weight in the glass perfumed and fresh showing violets, raspberries and blackcurrants. Soft, spicy French oak. Agile and full of cool-climate energy, silky tannins wrap around raspberries and clove spice. This producer keeps impressing.

NICK BUTLER
THE REAL REVIEW

It puts on a rich, seductive, complex display powered by black cherry, ripe plum and black pepper flavours. Briary/clovey/woody notes hover throughout, as does a suggestion of smoky reduction. It's juicy, well shaped and enormously enjoyable to drink.
